To authorize the use of United States Armed Forces to prevent and deter the further use of chemical weapons in Syria or by Syria against any other group or country.

Whereas the United Nations Security Council, in Resolution 1540 (2004), affirmed that the proliferation of nuclear, chemical and biological weapons constitutes a threat to international peace and security;

Whereas, the objective of the United States' use of military force in connection with this authorization should be to deter and prevent the future use of chemical weapons;

Whereas military action limited in duration, scope, and purpose is necessary to prevent the continued use of chemical weapons;

Whereas, the conflict in Syria will only be resolved through a negotiated political settlement, and Congress calls on all parties to the conflict in Syria to participate urgently and constructively in the Geneva process; and

Whereas, unified action by the legislative and executive branches will send a clear signal of American resolve: Now, therefore, be it
